Rolling Thunder® , Inc.

Massachusetts Chapter 1

Dear Veterans Service Officer:

By way of introduction, I am Joe D'Entremont, the President of Rolling Thunder®, Inc., Massachusetts Chapter 1.

As you may know, Rolling Thunder is a national non-profit organization whose main focus is to spread awareness for our POW/MIAs and their families.

Through your tireless work, you help many Veterans and their families during the year, whereas the POW's and MIA's have yet to receive any benefits for themselves or their families. We need to recognize these Soldiers and reach out to their families so they know we have not forgotten them. We need to HONOR these Soldiers with a place of their own.

Please review the enclosed material and feel free to contact me about creating and dedicating your own POW/MIA Chair in your town as a symbol of Honor and Respect. We have been contacting VSO leaders in the Commonwealth because that is where it all begins for our Soldiers and their families. Gillette Stadium, The Lowell Spinners and the Towns of Hingham, Saugus, Melrose, Wakefield and Westwood have all put in these places of Honor or plan to do so in the near future. Whether it be at your local Town Hall or school sports stadium, let us Honor these Men and Women who have yet to return Home.

Thank you very much for your support! I look forward to hearing from you.

Our Mission

The major function of Rolling Thunder®, Inc. is to publicize the POW-MIA issue: To educate the public that many American Prisoners of War were left behind after all previous wars and to help correct the past and to protect future Veterans from being left behind should they become Prisoners of War-Missing In Action. We are also committed to helping American Veterans from all wars.

Rolling Thunder®, Inc. is a non-profit organization and everyone donates his or her time because they believe in the POW/MIA Issue.

Leaving an empty seat in tribute to POWs and MIAs

By Kevin Cullen
| GLOBE COLUMNIST

NOVEMBER 06, 2012

On this, the most partisan day of the year, here's an idea we can all get behind.

A few years ago, Joe D'Entremont saw an empty seat at a racetrack in Bristol, Tenn. It was left empty on purpose, a symbolic way to remember the 92,000 American service members who since World War I went missing in action or were prisoners of war who didn't make it home.

D'Entremont — president of the Massachusetts chapter of Rolling Thunder, a group dedicated to making the government accountable for POWs and MIAs, looked at the empty seat in Tennessee and said, "Why not here?"

But you have to walk before you can run. D'Entremont noticed that the color guard that marched onto the field at Gillette Stadium during Patriots games didn't include a POW/MIA flag. So he called up the Patriots and offered them a flag, and they readily agreed. That flag is out there at every game now. The Red Sox started flying a POW/MIA flag at Fenway Park. It took a little longer to get one up at TD Garden, where the Bruins and Celtics play, but eventually goodwill prevailed. If you look around, there are POW/MIA flags at a lot of public events now. Thank you, Rolling Thunder.

Still, D'Entremont kept thinking about that empty seat in Tennessee, so he went back to the sports teams and asked them to give up a seat.

The Lowell Spinners, the minor league baseball team, were the first to sign on. In June, they dedicated a single black chair in Section 104 of LeLacheur Park that will remain empty forever.

D'Entremont was grateful, but he went looking for a bigger venue. On Friday, the Patriots will unveil a seat that will be kept empty at Gillette on Sunday, Veterans Day, and every day after that.

There's more. D'Entremont's buddy, Dennis Moschella, president of Veterans Assisting Veterans, got talking last summer to John MacDonald, the vice president of corporate strategy for Lupoli Cos., about the idea of putting up POW/MIA tables in restaurants. MacDonald is an Air Force veteran, and he turned to his boss, Sal Lupoli, and in no time at all, Lupoli said, "Let's do it."

"Joe D'Entremont told us he's had trouble persuading restaurants to do this," MacDonald said. "Sal jumped in with both feet."

A couple of weeks ago, they unveiled a table with an empty seat at Salvatore's, Lupoli's restaurant in Lawrence, and 300 people showed up. Lupoli wants to leave an empty seat in each of his five restaurants and his 40 pizza shops. Eventually it will get done. And if you don't think it will happen in all those locations, you don't know Sal Lupoli.

D'Entremont is hoping for momentum. What the Patriots are doing this week sets an example for the Red Sox and the people who run the Garden. Sal Lupoli has set the bar for restaurants.

D'Entremont is a Jamaica Plain guy, and when he went to his local, the venerable Doyle's Cafe, Gerry Burke Jr. agreed to keep an empty table throughout the Veterans Day weekend.

What if every bar in Boston, in Massachusetts, in New England left an empty seat or table?

From that empty seat at the racetrack in Tennessee, Joe D'Entremont is trying to think beyond stadiums and restaurants and bars.

He's thinking all sorts of public places, places where people go and people talk, where parents talk to their kids. Parks. Schools. Beaches.

"Think about the conversations," D'Entremont said. "I'd bet that most Americans wouldn't have any idea that 92,000 service members were POWs or MIAs who never made it home from the wars of the last century. Think about parents talking to their kids about the empty seat. Guys were left behind. They can't speak for themselves, so we have to speak for them."

I came across this story earlier today via our friends at MANning the Homefront. Thanks for passing along the news, gents!

LOWELL, MASS. – The Lowell Spinners, Class-A Affiliate of the Boston Red Sox, [Facebook, Web] held a special pre-game ceremony prior to their Tuesday, June 19 game against the Connecticut Tigers when they hold a special pre-game ceremony in conjunction with the Rolling Thunder, Massachusetts Chapter [Facebook].

The Spinners will dedicate a single black chair, atop of section 104, which will remain unoccupied for eternity, in honor of the more than 92,000 American soldiers who are unaccounted for.

"We are eternally grateful for the sacrifices the men and women of our armed services have made and continue to make," said Spinners Head Groundskeeper and Air Force Reserve Senior Airman Jeff Paolino. "This chair represents the ultimate sacrifice and is the ultimate reminder that these men and women are never forgotten."

The pre-game ceremony began at 6:30 p.m. with a special Rolling Rally around the LeLacheur Park warning track featuring the Rolling Thunder members, with the seat and plaque unveiling at 6:50 on the concourse.

Joe D'Entremont, President of the Massachusetts Chapter of the Rolling Thunder, will be on hand for this special ceremony.

"Joe and the Rolling Thunder have been instrumental in this process," said Paolino. "We are honored to be the first facility in the region to bring this seat to life. The chair is sure to convey a powerful message for Spinners fans for years to come."

The chair is part of the night itself which is dedicated to the POW/MIA. It is small part of the overall Military Appreciation theme that is part of the Spinners 2012 season. In addition to tonight's ceremony, the Spinners, in conjunction with Hanscom Federal Credit Union, are honoring one military member and their family at each Saturday home game as our "Hero Among Us," with batting practice, a ceremonial pitch, suite for the game and more. These nominations are currently being accepted at www.LowellSpinners.com.

D'Entremont is not a veteran himself but, in his words, "as I look at it, I'm serving now. I want to help educate people, especially youngsters that 91,803 soldiers are still missing since World War I including one soldier who has been missing for the past three years from Afghanistan."

Patriots, Rolling Thunder honor POW/MIAs with ceremony on Friday

Published: Thursday, November 15, 2012 12:02 PM EST

The New England Patriots will become the first NFL team to honor the approximately 92,000 missing United States soldiers since World War I with a POW-MIA Chair Dedication Friday. The ceremony will be held under the flagpole inside Gillette Stadium, starting at 10 a.m. The American flag will be joined by the POW-MIA flag that was donated by the Rolling Thunder Massachusetts Chapter 1 just few years ago.

Members of the MA-1 Rolling Thunder will also be present with their President, Joe D'Entremont, for a unique ceremony. A black chair will be dedicated and bear a plaque explaining its significance.

Joe D'Entremont, president of Rolling Thunder, Massachusetts Chapter 1.

"The chair is not meant for sitting by a veteran or anyone else," D'Entremont explains. "The empty chair is meant to help people remember that even though our soldiers aren't here, there is still a space for them. We remember them and want their families to know they are not forgotten."

The public is encouraged to attend the ceremony. Members of the Foxboro Veterans Services Department will join New England Patriots owner Robert Kraft, MA-1 Rolling Thunder President Joe D'Entremont and dedicated members of Rolling Thunder to help increase awareness of POW-MIA issues.

Also present will be Foxboro's John Mitchell of Boy Scout Troop 7 and a senior at Foxboro High School, who has been involved in scouting since he was in the first grade and is an Eagle Scout candidate. In September of 2011, Mitchell organized the town's first ever POW-MIA Recognition Day as part of his Eagle service project.

The MA-1 Rolling Thunder and D'Entremont were part of the 24-hour vigil on the Common orchestrated by Mitchell. At the time, Mitchell hoped he had started a new tradition in Foxboro and this past September POW-MIA Recognition Day was observed for the second consecutive year.

The third Friday of September is designated as POW-MIA Recognition Day to honor those U.S. service members that are either prisoners of war or still missing in action. The day is one of six in which Congress mandates the flying of the POW/MIA Flag; the others days are Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day, Flag Day, Independence Day and Veterans Day.

Rolling Thunder is a non-profit organization committed to helping American veterans from all wars. Members donate their time because they believe in the issues they are working on, D'Entremont says. There are 93 chapters of Rolling Thunder across the United States and D'Entremont just returned last weekend from the Annual National Rolling Thunder conference held in Washington, D.C. He and other members met with the nation's senators to increase awareness of POW-MIA issues including dedicating a chair at professional stadiums and sports arena around the country.

This past June, the Lowell Spinners (Single-A baseball affiliate of the Boston Red Sox) dedicated the first chair at LeLacheur Park in Lowell. According to D'Entremont the Patriots are the first professional team to come on board. He mentioned he has also contacted the Celtics and Bruins about dedicating a chair at the TD Garden as well as the Red Sox doing the same at Fenway Park.

D'Entremont is not a veteran himself but, in his words, "as I look at it, I'm serving now. I want to help educate people, especially youngsters that 91,803 soldiers are still missing since World War I including one soldier who has been missing for the past three years from Afghanistan."
